Resolved, 'That the people of the Island of Cuba are and of right ought to be free and independent.'

UNPLEDGED DELEGATES.

The Silver party was organized by the people of Nevada in 1872. It was a spontaneous outburst of the mass, who through delegates elected by the Silver leagues in all parts of the State, met in convention and solemnly pledged themselves to support no man for office, who was not pledged by platform and declaration to use his influence to restore silver. True to its popular origin the party adheres to the principle that all power is vested in the people, who have the undoubted right to elect delegates to State and County conventions. In accordance with this principle an election is to be held on Saturday, 20th instant, for delegates to the State convention of the party. Very many people, who believe the office should seek the man, not the man the office, express themselves in favor of sending unpledged delegates to the State Convention. This will prevent dissension and perhaps trickery at the primary election and leave the delegates free to exercise their own judgment at the State Convention, when they compare notes with men from all parts of the State. Good and true men, unpledged to any candidate, and on whose judgment and integrity all can rely, can be elected delegates without fear of being submitted to a vote as many names to the voters as there are delegates to be chosen, the voter to select the requisite number from the list. The voters can select the list of names to be voted for from the representative men of the party at a meeting called for the purpose. In this way the delegates can go to the Convention untrammelled by pledges to this, that or the other candidate, and it cannot be charged that undue or unfair methods were adopted in electing them, or that they are the tools or henchmen of bosses or corporations.

The method suggested is fair to everybody and if any would-be candidate objects to it and attempts to elect pledged delegates, let the unpledged delegates and those who believe in fair play, from all parts of the State, brand him for defeat in the Convention. Of course delegates from a county that has a candidate who comes up to the requirement, may be expected to support him though not pledged to do so.

GROWTH OF THE AMERICAN ARMY.

The War Department makes public an interesting statement of the progress made in organizing the regular and volunteer armies of the United States, from the time war was declared until July 24th, inclusive. April 23rd, the President issued a call for 125,000 volunteers, and three days later he approved the act to increase the regular army to 80,000 men. May 25, the President issued his second call for 75,000 more volunteers. July 24th the regular army consisted of 49,409 men, or about 11,000 less than the maximum required by law. July 21st, the total number of volunteers enrolled and mustered into the service of the United States, was 212,000, and on that date the total strength of the regular and volunteer armies was 261,400; which included three regiments of cavalry and ten regiments of infantry, the immunes are men, who have had the yellow fever or have been exposed to it and are, therefore, supposed to enjoy immunity from the disease.

The casualties from disease and battle at Santiago have reduced the regular and volunteer armies a few thousand, but there are today 250,000 men fit for active service in the army. General Merritt wants at least 51,000 men to establish and maintain order in the Philippines, 20,000 will be required for some time at Porto Rico, and it may take 75,000, or even more, for a few years to maintain a stable Government in Cuba. It is not probable, therefore, that the volunteer army will be disbanded in the very near future, especially if Aguinaldo insists on the independence of the Philippine Islands. He wants to know whether he is fighting for "independence," protection or annexation. General protection or annexation, and no one assumes the responsibility of answering him.

The Republican party is the best friend on earth of the laboring man. They make laws that induce large manufacturing firms to organize in trusts, and these trusts now rule the Republican party supreme. The mail trust has added another chapter to the success of the Donkey law by reducing the wages of its workmen.

The United States sold Canada last year $68,000,000 worth of goods, or $13.60 per capita. To Mexico our sales were $1.85 per capita. Our British goods are good ones.

Spain's answer to this Government in relation to the terms of peace is not quite satisfactory and further negotiations are in progress. The points of disagreement are not known to the outside world, but it is believed that further concessions on the part of Spain must be granted. A satisfactory agreement is looked for by this evening.

The Cabinet members would not communicate anything further, than that the answer was not enough, but they were hopeful of a satisfactory result to-day.

It was understood that Ambassador Cambon, who is acting for Spain would transmit a cablegram to the Spanish Government stating that a complete answer of acceptance of the terms imposed would be essential in effecting peace between the two Governments.

President McKinley stated yesterday that he had no intention of calling an extra session of Congress, but that the Senate would have to meet in extra session in order to ratify the treaty of peace. He thought, however, that the delays incident to perfecting the details of the terms would carry the Congress over to November and the Senate would not be called together until then.

Secretary Alger gave out later in the day that the Cabinet had agreed upon a protocol embodying the proposed terms for the negotiations of a treaty of peace including the evacuation of Cuba and Porto Rico. The terms agreed upon are precisely those laid down by the President in his original note.

Spanish papers are urging the convening of the Cortes. It is believed that if a surrender of the Philippines is necessary it should be done so as not to deprive Spain liberty of action in the future. They also urge that a suspension of the Constitution should be ended in order that the press may freely express public opinion.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY has taken occasion to express his gratitude for the cordial support given him in the conduct of the war by the press, regardless of politics, and he thinks it will be of incalculable benefit to the country by showing to the world that however much we may differ among ourselves as to domestic policies, we are all Americans when it comes to confronting a foreign foe.

It is reported that on the day that the news of annexation was received in Honolulu, an expedition authorized by the Hawaiian Republic started on a 1700 mile voyage to annex two islands to the Hawaiian group. The islands in question are Iyer and Moriri, about 100 miles apart. The Hawaiian flag had never been raised over these islands.

AN American officer has been testing the several guns now in use on a banking of yellow pine. The Muser penetrated the wood 35125 inches, the Krag-Jorgensen, 26125, and the Springfield, 146 inches.

The Salt Lake Tribune says that it is almost a certainty that the State Line railroad will be extended this year from Milford, Utah, to Pinedo, Nevada. A part of the grading is already completed.

THE NEVADA INFANTRY BATTALION.

Strict Discipline Maintained and Rowdyism Punished—Drum Parade a Success as well as Military Event.

The Nevada Infantry Battalion is composed of 400 men gathered from all parts of the State. Less than one-fourth of the men were members of the National Guard. The others are principally young men who worked on farms and in mining camps, but a few were taken from the tramp class who were temporarily in Nevada when the battalion was organized. The latter have been the cause of considerable trouble in camp and also in Carson when permitted to roam about town in the evening. They imitate Chinese drinks, which are sold cheap, and, who is under the influence of these abominable compounds of wood alcohol and other poisons, commit all manner of excesses and shriek and yell like maniacs, making night hideous with their howls, and life anything but pleasant for the civil authorities as well as the military officers. Four-fifths of the volunteers are respectable men and deplore and deprecate the conduct of their comrades and render every possible assistance to their officers in suppressing the lawlessness of the few. Garrison court-martials have been convened and a half-dozen or more of those who have been guilty of violating the army regulations have been sentenced to imprisonment at hard labor from three to ten days each and to forfeit from $3 to $5 pay. The findings of the court and the names of the guilty ones are read aloud at dress parade. This is having a good effect, and Major Morrison, who is a kind hearted gentleman and disposed to lenient, says that punishment will be meted out until the rowdyish element in the battalion is suppressed. Innocent men are made to suffer for the transgressions of others as none are now permitted to be absent from camp later than 10 o'clock at night. Civilians, male and female, are marched outside the lines at 8 o'clock in the evening by an armed patrol and binoculars are not as numerous on the streets of Carson evenings as heretofore.

No complaint is made by the men now of the severity of provisions. The company cooks have learned to save and find the ration sufficient. Ripe fruits would be greatly appreciated by the men and a present of a few sacks of ripe apples, say one sack for each company, or a dozen boxes of peaches once or twice a week, would gladden the hearts and satisfy the appetites of the boys.

The companies are drilled for several hours daily. This is severe exercise in hot weather, but the boys seem to like it. They are taught the manual of arms and handle their rifles like veterans.

The dress parade at 7 o'clock every evening is not only a military, but a social event. Society's "400" turn out to see the military "433," and the beauty of the Capital city may be seen at the evening parade. This event is enlivened by a brass band composed of enlisted men, who march in front of the battalion when it is drawn up in line, and make the camp resound with martial music. Chief Bugler Nelson of the Reno Company, is one of the principle musicians in the band, and his bugle blasts when he sounds reveille in the early morning awake the sleepiest of citizens for miles around. The boys are anxious to go to the front and have a brush with the Spaniards, but the War Department has not yet intimated when they are to move. They hope and expect to be ordered to Manila, but whether the hope will be realized depends to a great extent upon the caprice of Aguinaldo. Carson will miss the volunteers and it will be lonesome when they leave.

A slip of the tongue gets the Old Gentleman in Trouble.

T. V. Julien will leave for Iowa this morning to look into the suit for damages brought against Jacob McKissack in that State for an alleged shooting of one Purby, which it is claimed Mr. McKissack admitted having done years ago. It seems that during a visit to Iowa sometime ago the old gentleman said he had fired the mysterious shot and the party injured at the time, commenced suit for $5,000. Mr. McKissack does not remember having admitted firing the shot, and claims that he knows nothing of the circumstances. A slip of the tongue has made trouble for the old gentleman.

Private Stanley Receives Pay for Injuries.

Private Stanley of Reno, a member of the 2nd Nevada U. S. Volunteers, received $300 from the railroad people for the injuries received to his arm in the late railroad accident at Tupelo, Miss. It will be remembered that several of the troops were injured on their way to Florida by a rear end collision at this station.

The cause of the fire which destroyed the Masonic Hall at Susanville was owing to the fall of a chandelier containing five lamps. The loss is estimated at $30,000. The United States Land office lost many of its records and official plates.

For Supreme Judge.

Several of the State papers have announced the fact that Judge Wm. Webster is a candidate for Supreme Judge subject to the decision of the Silver Party State Convention. Judge Webster, as has been stated, is one of the pioneer attorneys of Nevada, and has been successful in the practice of law in the early days of "Old Washoe" he came to the State and hung out his shingle in that town and has been a resident of Washoe county ever since.

His experience in the practice of his profession has been extended and his opinions on questions of law are recognized. His long and continuous practice has led him to consideration and his election as Supreme Judge would be a fitting compliment to his ability as well as an honorable retirement from active practice.

In all matters pertaining to the advancement of the State, he is always for most and his energy and perseverance given in this direction. He is a man in the full vigor of life, active and industrious, and if nominated and elected would always be found prompt and devoted to his duties. His interests are all in Nevada and his heart is with the people of his State.

The following clippings are some of the complimentary notices the Judge has received:

The Elko Argonaut of August 8th learns from good authority that Wm. Webster of Reno is a candidate for Supreme Judge, subject to the decision of the Silver Party State Convention, and says Judge Webster will indeed be a hard man to beat. He has practiced law in Washoe county for over thirty years, is thoroughly identified with the interests of Nevada, a most energetic business man of the highest integrity, and, in short, is eminently qualified in every particular for the high position he seeks.

The Gazette of the 9th also republished the above.

Judge Wm. Webster of Reno is mentioned as a candidate for Supreme Judge, subject to the decision of the Silver Party convention. Judge Webster is one of the well known lawyers of the State and an able man. Should he receive the nomination and election, we believe, would find him to be mindful of their rights in his decisions.—People's Advocate.

The Virginia Report of August 6th comments as follows:

Judge William Webster of Reno is mentioned as a candidate for Supreme Judge, subject to the decision of the Silver Party State Convention. Judge Webster is a pioneer attorney of the State, having located in Washoe county in the early sixties and has ever been a resident of the county and engaged in the practice of the law. His long experience eminently fits him for the honorable position he seeks and his nomination and election would be a deserved compliment for his devotion to Nevada's interests.

A Clever Trick.

It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can take it with him—back and weak knees, malaria or nervous troubles. We mean he can cure himself right away by taking Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to liver and kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic. It cures constipation, head aches, fainting spells, sleeplessness and melancholia. It is purely vegetable, mild laxative, and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters, and be convinced that they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 10c a bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

A Carson Blaze.

Yesterday morning at about a quarter of four the fire bells began to ring, signaling and awakened the entire populace of Carson. The alarm was given with unusual violence in order to call immediate aid as the prospects of an immense conflagration were apparent and the quantity of water was by many questioned.

The fire was discovered to be in the rear portion of the Briza House, it having originated in the kitchen. This part of the hotel was demolished, but the injury to the main building was comparatively small. The firemen acted promptly and thus checked what might have been a disastrous fire.

A Mistake.

The News states that a fire occurred in Reno last night, meaning Tuesday, and the building was gutted through a lack of water supply. The News is in error. There was no fire in Reno, and the water supply is only equalled by the flow of beer and whiskey and the latter would extinguish the fires of Hades if the alcohol could be separated from the water it contains.

Be fresh and be no better on the coast, at Spindler & Loder's.

STEWART WAS PAIRED.

The Carson Appeal Corrects a Mistake.

In commenting upon an article in the Elko Sentinel relative to the resolution annexing Hawaii, the Appeal said:

"The next thing in order is for some one to tell the people of Nevada why Senator Jones voted against the resolution and why Senator Stewart did not vote at all on the question."

A subsequent investigation of the vote on the adoption of the resolution in the Senate shows that Senator Stewart was paired in favor of the resolution with Senator Mills of Texas, who voted against it. This correction is made in justice to the Senator. The Appeal thought at the time that it was strange that his name did not appear in the tabulated vote, but failed to examine the pairs.

The paragraph conveyed the impression that the Senator had dodged the question, a thing which he has not the reputation of doing.—Carson Appeal.

He Saw the Play.

They were giving "She Stoops to Conquer" in a small provincial town. A penniless individual, anxious to see the play, stalked past the ticket office in a careless, independent sort of way. When stopped and asked by what right he went in without paying, he replied: "By what right? I am Oliver Goldsmith, the author of the piece they are going to perform!" "Ah, beg pardon, sir," said the check taker, making a bow. And Goldsmith walked in to see his play.—London Answers.
